Re-Imagining Migration - Back to School Package

To access this list of resources, please create an account on the Re-Imagining Migration website, sign in, and then download the materials. Membership and resources are FREE.

- Interview with Dr. Maryam Kia Keating — Insights on creating relational connections with students and families this fall.
- Supporting Immigrant Students: Trauma-Informed, Relationship-Centered Strategies for Teachers — A study guide drawn from Dr. Maryam Kia Keating's research featuring strategies for helping immigrant students navigate trauma from anti-immigrant policies and build resilience in schools.
- Back-to-School Webinar: Centering Belonging — Video resources for teachers, highlighting strategies to make students feel welcome and seen.
    - Revised Guide for Moving Stories — A guide for educators to use the Moving Stories approach while protecting student safety through indirect storytelling approaches.
- National Newcomer Network Resource Page — Curated tools and networks to support immigrant students.

Our package also includes professional development and assessment tools to guide reflection and school-wide change:

- Teacher-Led PD: Building Belonging for All Students — Opportunities for educators to reflect on themselves, their schools, students' summer experiences, and strategies to foster belonging while addressing bullying policies.
- Assessment and Auditing Kit — Including a culturally responsive teaching checklist, audit kits for school culture, learning environments, and community belonging (part of our Belonging Alliance Club collection).
- Practical Tools — 7 Steps to Building Belonging, history curriculum planning guides, literature curriculum planning toolkit, and other classroom-ready resources.

This fall, school leaders and educators have the power to tip the balance toward belonging, ensuring that every student—particularly those from immigrant backgrounds—feels valued and supported. Even when leadership falters, individual teachers can be protective allies, creating inclusive learning environments that benefit every student. The moment to act is now.