

NAUSET INTERFAITH ASSOCIATION

The annual Nauset Interfaith Association of 22 faith communities on the lower and outer Cape, including Church of the Holy Spirit, is having the annual Interfaith Thanksgiving Service this year online because of Covid-19. The service was recorded at Our Lady of the Cape Roman Catholic Church in Brewster and can be viewed online. The link will be sent to all parishioners with online service.

The MLK Day Breakfast this coming January will also be an online event with a focus on hearing the voices of young women of color on Cape Cod. The event is being chaired by Barbara Gibson, a member of St. Christopher's in Chatham. More information is forthcoming.

Holy Spirit's representatives to the Board of Directors of the Nauset Interfaith Association are Brooke Eaton-Skea, Linda Belford and Fr. Ken Campbell. Page McMahan has just retired from this position after serving for a number of years. Thank you Page!

NIA has four action team, with a number of members from CHS, focusing on forming a supportive relationship and scholarships for higher education with at risk older teens, working with our school systems to understand and overcome institutional racism and working with our police chiefs on Cape Cod to heal unconscious racism, and reaching out to refugees, new immigrants and asylum seekers here on Cape Cod and beyond.

Donations to help with the gift cards for refugee and asylum seekers can be sent to NIA, Box 306, South Orleans, 02662. Checks should be made out to Nauset Interfaith Association and are tax deductible. For more information please call Ken at 413-478-5719

Ken will be leading an interfaith study of the book "Holy Envy: Finding God in the Faith of Others" by Episcopal priest, Barbara Brown Taylor (who spoke at Holy Spirit several years ago). If interested please email Ken at ksbcampbell5050@gmail.com We are also looking for people of other faiths to join the study. The study will begin in January. Registration is limited.
