

Halve Maen Award

2019 nomination form

The Halve Maen (meaning “Half Moon” in old Dutch) was a Dutch East India Company ship which sailed into what is now New York harbor in September 1609. Captained by Henry Hudson, the ship was looking for a western passage to China. As Hudson sailed up the river which now bears his name, he claimed the area for the Dutch and opened the land for settlers who followed.

His voyage came some 10 years before the Pilgrims landed at Plymouth Rock. The arrival of the Halve Maen gave the Dutch a significant role in establishing what would become a new nation based on personal freedom, tolerance and liberty.
