Feedback

To evaluate the quality of the event, WRS conducted an employee survey, offering an incentive of possibly winning a prize. In general, those participating in the survey found NSRW 2017 to be an important and motivating event. Importantly, 64 percent reported they were first time users compared to 45 percent in 2016. Furthermore, 45 percent (18% in 2016) said they used NSW materials at home and 21 percent (4% in 2016) said they interacted with the campaign on a mobile device.

It should also be noted that WRS redesigned its website in 2017. WRS also used daily social media posts (Facebook) and purchased boosts as a method of spreading the message of Your Whole Story.
