Time for Transformative Water Leadership

Join the California Water Policy Conference as we reimagine our annual conference postponed last April into a live digital forum series. Over the next few months, we'll bring our long-anticipated panels online with all the great content you expect from us and none of the Powerpoint slides. Our first and free webinar will focus on transformative leadership. Hear from water's most innovative leaders as they help us connect future trends and current realities to policies and practices aimed at ensuring a resilient water future for all Californians.
