CRUICKSHANK REMODELING NEWSLETTER

It's a Season of Home and Inspiration

There is something timeless about autumn—the changing light, richer textures, and quiet invitation to gather at home. As the season unfolds, we're reflecting on the spaces we've had the privilege to transform and the people who make each project meaningful.

In this issue of the Cruickshank newsletter, we invite you inside some of our latest projects, highlight the community events that bring us together, and explore the remodeling trends defining the season. Most importantly, we're celebrating the clients, craftsmen, and communities who continue to inspire our work.

From thoughtful renovations to refined new spaces, we believe exceptional design is found in the details—and that the most beautiful homes are those designed around the way you live.

MASTER SUITE MAKEOVER

A Traditional Home Gets Modern Touches

We reclaimed the unused attic space to add a custom-designed closet with ample hanging storage, a dressing table, and a new window to bring in natural light and create an inviting place to start the day, an upstairs laundry room with a coffee station, and additional storage for luggage and other miscellaneous items. We upgraded the bathroom by replacing a solid framed wall with glass to open the shower space and replaced the cultured marble spa tub with a Victoria + Albert freestanding tub, two custom vanities with Calacatta marble tops, and lighting from Visual Comfort. In the master bedroom, we combined the original his and her closets into one better designed space. We also replaced the original door and transom combinations on the first floor with more modern three-panel eight-foot doors. (Continued on Page 5)

DEFINED ROOMS ARE MAKING A COMEBACK

The New Luxury Isn't Simply Having More Space—It's Giving Every Space a Purpose

After years of open-concept living, homeowners are beginning to embrace something a little more intentional: the return of the defined room. Rather than one expansive space designed to serve every purpose, today's interiors are creating distinction between cooking, dining, entertaining, working, and relaxing.

Walls, arched openings, built-ins, pocket doors, and architectural details are being used to give each room its own identity while maintaining a sense of connection throughout the home. The result is a more layered and sophisticated interior—spaces that feel intimate when they need to and connected when they should.

In Their Own Words

We believe exceptional remodeling is about more than the finished space. It's about the experience along the way—through communication, meticulous craftsmanship, and a commitment to doing the job right. We're grateful when our clients take the time to share their experience with us.

"Your quality of work was excellent and your level of service, organization, and communication was also superb! A rare quality to find these days." – David P.

"They went out of their way to not only complete the work as outlined but to fix other items that became obvious to them as they went along. They rebuilt a cracked toilet and replaced a garbage disposal that I knew probably needed repairs but had not mentioned to them." – Diana E.

OUT AND ABOUT WITH CRUICKSHANK

NARI Cares: Building Community Beyond the Jobsite

Cruickshank Remodeling participated in the 17th Annual NARI Cares Golf Tournament at Bear's Best Atlanta, joining fellow remodeling and construction professionals for a day centered around community and giving back.

This year's event supported Rebuilding Together Atlanta and Lifecycle Building Center, two organizations dedicated to strengthening communities and creating greater access to safe, sustainable spaces. Our team was honored to contribute both on the course and behind the scenes, with Cruickshank team members participating as golfers and volunteers throughout the event.

NARI Nights: An Evening of Craft, Community and Connection

September brought another memorable NARI Nights to Atlanta, bringing together some of the city's leading remodelers, builders, designers, and industry partners for an evening of connection and camaraderie. The event was hosted at the Construction Resources Design Center.

For Cruickshank Remodeling, evenings like these are a reminder that great work is built on more than exceptional craftsmanship—it's built on relationships, collaboration, and a shared passion for creating remarkable spaces.
