Reentry Skills for Ex-offenders
ONLINE Workshop Series

With States cutting budgets and transferring ex-offenders from prison and jails back to the community to save money, this will cause a void in inmate skill set development that is required to reenter the community. The demand for help will be astronomical! AM, Philadelphia, PA

Ex-Offender Home Schooling?

"Research has shown that students who develop life-skills are far less likely to engage in a wide range of high-risk behaviors"

What about life-skills?

Life-skills education addresses behavioral changes in ex-offenders, while also increasing their knowledge of how to deal with everyday situations.

Introduction

- Ex-offender training is needed because of the growing number of ex-offenders being released yearly (650,000), who are in need of a second chance.

- While major corporations reluctantly believe that ex-offender training and active hiring is the right thing to do, other large organizations (universities and colleges) have been slow to embrace ex-offender training.
