

Holiday Boutiques at The Elizabeth Collective / December 9 – 13, 2019

Carolyn Rowan Accessories: Made with the finest leather, cashmere and wool and detailed with Swarovski beading and a chic use of colorful feathers, all of Ms. Rowan's accessories are created and designed in New York City. Her collection is distinguished by its easy elegance and sophistication making her stylish designs perfect for a variety of occasions.

#CocktailHourWithGigi: Gigi Grimstad's fabulous collection of whimsical linens is designed to make perfect gifts and to cocktail hour more fun. Her hand stitched linens often get the party started with their amusing sayings and comments. Gigi is one of the New York and Nashville's most fabulous hostesses, fashion world and food authorities. Her passion for entertaining, cooking and curating beautiful objects and decorations is well known.

Dee Ocleppo: Former fashion model and financier, Dee is married to famed designer, Tommy Hilfiger and totally engulfed in the fashion world. Moved by the talent and pride of Italian artisans she met on her travels, Dee brought to the American market a collection of beautifully designed luxury handbags directly from the finest Italian manufacturers.

Fernanda Carri: "The Faces of My Voice," exhibiting on the third and fourth floors, mixes the beginnings of her work with confessional art to present a metamorphosis series. Carri's oeuvre is an intimate demonstration of recurring themes in her life and journey. It includes a selection of her sculptures, ceramics and drawings.

Iradj Moini: These one of a kind, enchanting pieces are handmade in his New York studio with either semi-precious stones or vintage artisanal crystals. Mr. Moini's true passion is creating unique, haute couture necklaces, earrings and brooches that are elegant and highly detailed. Many of his pieces have been featured in museum exhibitions and are worn by the most glamorous and stylish women in the world.

Kim Seybert: Founded on the belief that just as beautiful clothes are designed to be worn, beautiful pieces can be designed for elaborate table settings. She has used her impressive design experience to craft a supremely stylish collection of fashionable items for the table with an emphasis on designs for the holidays and a modern way of entertaining.

L'OBJET: Founder and Creative Director, Elad Yifrach, was previously an interior designer in Beverly Hills. He is a lifelong traveler with a unique global perspective whose tabletop accessories are born from the marriage of meticulous craftsmanship and timeless sensibility. All are extremely unique and of the highest quality. Each piece has been touched by the hand of an artisan resulting in luxurious and functional works of art for the home and glamorous gifts for the holidays.

Maison Gerard: A selection of exquisite bronze jewelry and accessories from renowned designers Line Vautrin and Jaimal Odedera. Both artisans offer highly original and imaginative pieces that challenge the way the medium is traditionally used.

Marc Bernstein New York: Since 2002, artist and master craftsman Marc Bernstein has committed his talents to designing an ever-evolving collection of urban-chic jewelry and leather goods. He produces highly individualized pieces in various colors often with unique hardware.

Marjorelle Bespoke Leathers: Having fallen in love with Marrakech and spending several weeks there each year, Marjorie Gordon sources this sophisticated collection of leather garments directly from an atelier in Morocco that designs pieces in the highest European tradition. All are meticulously hand crafted from the finest quality supple leathers and fine silks.