THE CASE FOR CONVERSATION

The landscape in which leaders and managers operate is changing. A shift to more inclusive management styles, rapidly changing markets demanding ever more cross-functional collaboration and faster innovation, and trust in leaders is at an all-time low. The need for authentic, open dialogue within organizations has never been greater. Join us for a session on the background and also highlights on the five Super-Skills they need to have great conversations, a core competency underpinning all others.

Tuesday, October 9
10:30 am – 12:00 pm
