DDBP Testing Visit

Cincinnati Children's changing the outcome together

Growing Through Knowing

Welcome

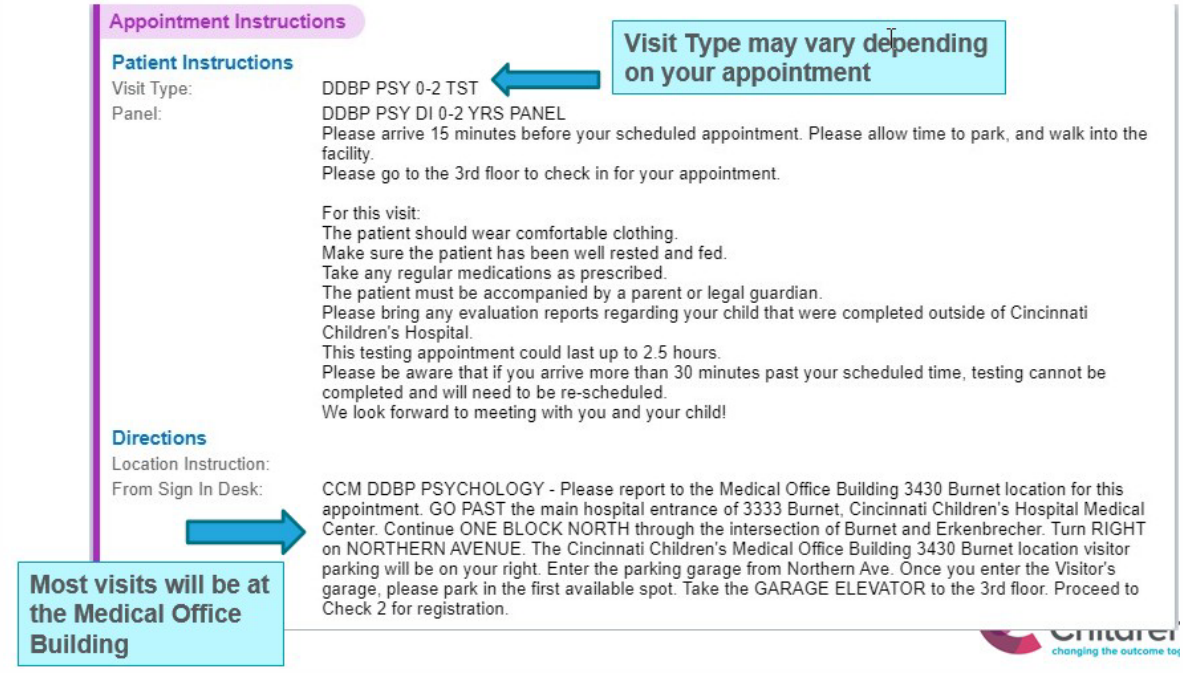

Welcome to Developmental and Behavioral Pediatrics (DDBP) at Cincinnati Children's. This book will help you know what to expect at your child's first appointment.

Before Your Appointment

You will get helpful information about your visit in several ways. These may include appointment reminders mailed to your home, text messages and MyChart appointments. Please look for the location, date and time of the appointment on your reminder.

Packing For Your Appointment

If you are coming for an autism or developmental evaluation, plan to be with us for several hours. We recommended bringing:

- Your child's favorite toys, activities or snacks
- Diapers, change of clothes for young children
- Your child's insurance card
- Your debit or credit card for any insurance co-pays
- Another adult (to help with keeping the child busy while the provider speaks to the caregiver, or an extra set of ears to hear the information)

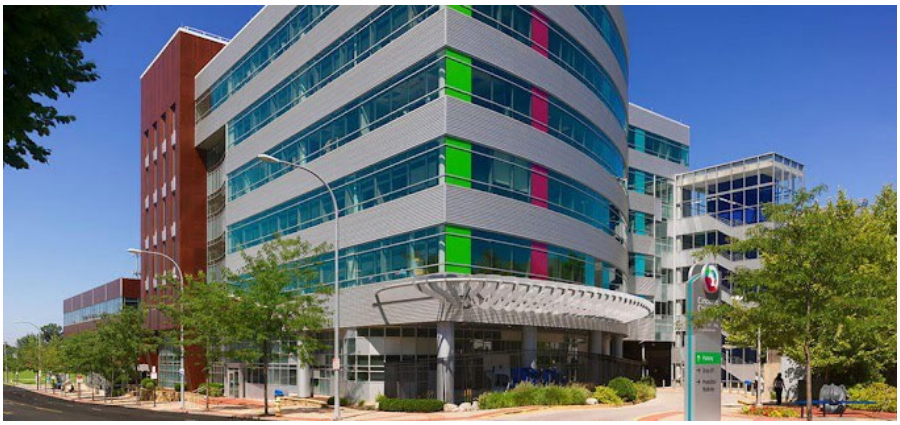

Some visits with only one provider, like a developmental-behavioral pediatrician, nurse practitioner or therapists may be an hour or less. Evaluations for autism or developmental disorders will last multiple hours. You and your child will likely be seen by many providers.

Testing Activities with Your Child

- The provider may complete different evaluation measures with your child including:
  - developmental testing
  - cognitive testing
  - language testing
  - activities to evaluate for autism spectrum disorder
- This may include activities such as your child playing with toys, looking at pictures, or answering questions with the provider.

Caregiver Rating Forms

As the caregiver, you will be asked to fill out several forms to give more information about your child's day-to-day skills, communication skills, and social-emotional/behavioral skills. Your provider may also send similar rating forms home with you for your child's teacher to complete that they can send back to the provider.

Testing Activities with Your Child

- Depending on the nature of your appointment and your child's age, you may complete caregiver rating forms in the clinic room OR in the waiting room while your child participates in testing activities.
- These forms will help providers understand your child's skills compared to other children their age.

Physical Exam

If you see a developmental-behavioral pediatrician or nurse practitioner, they may complete a physical exam with your child including vitals and weight. If your child has a hard time being touched by others, we have support available for your family. Our child life team will help make this easier.

At the End of Your Appointment

Once your appointment is complete, your provider will talk to you about next steps. This may include upcoming appointments or any referrals. You will get an After Visit Summary (AVS) which includes your child's care plan and/or any upcoming appointments. You may also view your AVS on MyChart under the "Appointments, Visits, Admissions" section.

Contact your care team by calling the general DDBP phone line at (513) 636-4611, email us at DDBPFamilySupport@cchmc.org, or use MyChart.
