Thank you for your candid feedback! We are working on ways to improve these various areas based on feedback and an assessment of needs. For example, administration has been working with Lower School teachers on homework expectations as well as providing more pro-active information on our Saxon Math Pilot. We are looking at our communication and seeing if we can guide our faculty/staff on some predictable patterns with guidelines for sending emails etc. With regard to Lower School Library, we'd like to remind everyone that the Library is still available after school for families to use and check out books; we will also be hosting an Ignatius Press Book Fair this spring (more details to come). Thank you, once again, for partnering with Saint Agnes School!
