Trekker Terms and Conditions Active Elements, Medical Conditions, and Special Assistance

Some Trekkers' tours and excursions incorporate active elements that require the ability to walk varying distances, climb stairs, and move without assistance. Registered participants are responsible for familiarizing themselves with the level of activity involved in the tour in advance.

Participants must disclose in their Participant Information Form (or at such later time when they become aware of such a condition) if any physical or mental illness, disability, pregnancy or any other condition will create a health hazard for the participant or other participants during the tour, or will require medical attention or special accommodation during the tour.

We will make reasonable efforts to accommodate such needs. However, we MUST be notified at the time of booking of such needs so that we can determine what assistance we can reasonably provide.

We cannot accommodate requests for assistance with ordinary daily activities, such as walking and eating. We will not physically lift or assist participants on to or off of any vehicles.

If we cannot accommodate a participant's special needs, they must be accompanied by a companion who will be responsible for independently providing the needed assistance.
