

Jessica's House

2025 Annual Report

A Letter From Our Founder & Executive Director

Dear friends of Jessica's House,

As I look back on this past year, I am once again reminded of the extraordinary strength that lives within our community. Every day at Jessica's House, we witness grief met with compassion, pain held with care, and healing made possible through connection.

In 2025, we served 963 children, teens, young adults, and their caregivers through peer support groups—both at Jessica's House and at schools across our community. These groups are where the true heart of our work unfolds. In circles of shared experiences, young people discover they are not alone in their grief. They find understanding from peers who know what it feels like to lose a parent or sibling, build lasting friendships, and learn that healing is possible even after devastating loss.

2025 also brought meaningful milestones that extend our mission beyond our physical walls. We launched When Grief Comes Home, a book capturing over two decades of learning from the families who have trusted us with their stories. Season Two of our podcast continued honest conversations about loss, love, and resilience, reaching listeners around the world and reminding us that while grief can feel deeply isolating, it is something we can carry together.

The courage and openness shown by the children, parents, and caregivers we serve inspire us each day. As we move forward, we remain committed to expanding access to grief support and strengthening our programs by deepening our impact within our community and beyond.

To our volunteers, donors, staff, and community partners: thank you. Your generosity, time, and trust make it possible for us to be alongside grieving families, offering hope in moments of profound loss. Together, we are building a future where no child in our community will ever grieve alone.

With gratitude,

Erin Nelson
Founder & Executive Director
Jessica's House

A Safe Place to Grieve, Connect & Heal

During a time of unimaginable loss, Jessica's House provides peer support in a safe place for children, teens, young adults and their families, by providing moments of connection, expression through art and play, and opportunities to share and practice coping skills. These groups are provided at no charge to families thanks to generous support from our community.

OUR MISSION is to provide a safe place for children, teens, young adults, and their families grieving a death.

OUR VISION

is that no child should ever grieve alone.

The Parker Family's Journey Through Grief

When Laquisha and Denzel met, they quickly became inseparable, just like their moms, who were best friends. Denzel was persistent in his pursuit, often striking up conversations with Laquisha's family until she finally gave him a chance. That chance turned into a 15-year love story.

Laquisha remembers Denzel as funny and outgoing, always cracking jokes, dancing, and lighting up every room with his smile. Their shared love language was food and they loved cooking together. "He could make anything from scratch," Laquisha said.

"He was the fun dad. He liked to sneak the kids candy and was always reading them stories." Laquisha and Denzel had five children together and loved spending time as a family, especially painting in the park.

One night, Laquisha woke to find Denzel unconscious. Despite performing CPR as directed by 911 operators, Denzel had already died from cardiac arrest.

At the hospital, a chaplain handed Laquisha a brochure for Jessica's House. She immediately remembered referring a friend there for grief support a year earlier and knew she needed to call. Soon, their family joined groups at Jessica's House.

"There were other people going through the same loss I'm going through. Every emotion I felt was like theirs," Laquisha said.

After starting in groups, Laquisha noticed her kids opening up more about their feelings, talking about their dad, and freely sharing favorite memories like their family trips together.

"When he first died, the kids all slept with me. They were scared I wouldn't wake up like their dad, but now everybody is back in their own rooms," she said.

Laquisha said she and her kids feel safe at Jessica's House, surrounded by people with similar experiences who understand what it's like to lose someone so important.

The People Who Make Our Mission Possible

OUR VOLUNTEERS

Our volunteers are the heart of Jessica's House. In 2025, we had 216 active volunteers helping with group facilitation, greeting families, administrative tasks, providing hospitality during group nights, and helping with community and donor events.

Our volunteers logged a total of 7,932 hours. That equates to a value of $275,953*.

We hold a volunteer orientation three times per year. In 2025, we trained 166 new volunteers. To learn more or to apply, visit jessicashouse.org/volunteer.

In addition to our incredible group of volunteers, we welcomed 17 unpaid interns in 2025. Our interns help in many areas and support us with daily house and room resets, school group facilitation, house group facilitation, art activity preparation, and outreach events.

Our interns logged a total of 2,319.5 hours for a value of $80,695.

One of the best ways we can illustrate the power of the work at Jessica's House is through our Youth Ambassadors. These are children, teens and young adults who have spent time in the program and volunteer to speak about their experiences. In 2025, we had seven active Youth Ambassadors that spoke at various donor and community events.

A Resource for Navigating Grief Together

On February 4, 2025, Jessica's House launched When Grief Comes Home, a compassionate resource for families navigating loss together.

Drawing from their personal and professional experience, Erin Nelson and Colleen Montague, LMFT, offer gentle wisdom for parents grieving alongside their children. They share insight on supporting a grieving child, expressing and honoring grief, and moving toward healing as a family. Each chapter includes reflective questions, family activities, and conversation starters designed to create meaningful moments of connection between parents and children.

When Grief Comes Home serves as a steady companion, bringing hope even in the darkest moments and reminding families that they do not walk this path alone.

The Heart Circle: A Community of Compassion

The Heart Circle is a dedicated community of major donors whose generosity fuels the ongoing work of Jessica's House. Since opening our new home in 2021, every $1,500 contributed through the Heart Circle has helped provide compassionate support for a child grieving the death of a parent or sibling. Because of this extraordinary circle of care, 2,544 children have found connection, comfort, and hope.

In 2025, our Heart Circle Drive inspired remarkable generosity, raising $987,546 in donations and pledge commitments. These contributions ensure that every family can access our services at no cost as they navigate one of the most difficult experiences of their lives. Heart Circle memberships begin at $5,000 and may be pledged over five years, making it possible for more families to participate in this community of impact. Donors giving at the Indigo level or above are honored on our Heart Circle wall, a lasting tribute to their compassion and leadership.

Where Love Lives On Through Giving

At Jessica's House, every In Memory donation represents a story that continues. These gifts are made in memory of someone deeply missed. Someone whose life shaped a family, a circle of friends, and a community. We hold these names with reverence.

Each tribute not only preserves the legacy of a loved one but also creates a path of healing for children and families walking through their own grief. It is a powerful reminder that while loss changes everything, love continues to ripple forward, making support possible for others who need it most.

Once Supported, Now Supporting Others

Jessica's House helped my family learn how to support me. Without this place, I don't think I would have had the help I needed to process my mom's death.

– Xadrien, Youth Ambassador

My favorite room is the music room because that's where I could always find the right tune to match how I was feeling.

– Hazel, Youth Ambassador

Thanks to Jessica's House I have a place to express myself, to be myself where I can mourn freely and help others who are going through something similar.
