2020 Short-Term Fellowships

The William L. Clements Library at the University of Michigan holds a rich array of primary sources on early American history from 1492 into the 20th century including books, manuscripts, pamphlets, maps, prints, newspapers, photographs, and more. Short-term fellowships require a minimum visit of one week and offer between $1,000 and $1,500.

Jacob M. Price Visiting Research Fellowship
Any topic in American history

Mary G. Stange Fellowship
Any topic supported by the collections. Unique projects are encouraged.

Richard & Mary Jo Marsh Fellowship
Any topic supported by the collections.

Donald F. Melhorn, Jr. Fellowship
Open to senior-class undergraduate and first or second year graduate students in any Ohio, Michigan or Indiana college or university working on a project in American history.

Fellowship for Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion in American History
Open to affiliates of historically Black colleges and universities working on a project examining topics of diversity, equity, and inclusion or who have demonstrated a commitment to diversity in the field of American history.

Howard H. Peckham Fellowship on Revolutionary America
Open to post-doctoral researchers working on early American history between 1764 and 1815.

Brian Leigh Dunnigan Fellowship in the History of Cartography
Any topic supported by the cartographic collections.

Apply at http://clements.umich.edu/fellowship.php
Applications due January 15, 2020

For further information contact: clements-fellowships@umich.edu or call 734-764-2347.
2020 Post-Doctoral Fellowships

The William L. Clements Library at the University of Michigan holds a rich array of primary sources on early American history from 1492 into the 20th century including books, manuscripts, pamphlets, maps, prints, newspapers, photographs, and more. The following post-doctoral fellowships require a completed Ph.D. or equivalent qualifications at the time of application.

Howard H. Peckham Fellowship on Revolutionary America
Awarded for projects in early American history from 1764-1815. $10,000 award requiring a minimum two-month residence or $1,000 award requiring a minimum visit of one week.

Earhart Fellowship on American History
$6,000 to support research on any aspect of American history prior to 1901, requiring a minimum six-week residence.

Reese Fellowship in the Print Culture of the Americas
$5,000 to support research in the history of the book, bibliography, and other aspects of print culture in America, including publishing and marketing, from the sixteenth century to 1900, requiring a minimum one-month residence.

Norton Strange Townshend Fellowship
$10,000 to support scholarly research on diversity, equity and inclusion in American history during the nineteenth century, requiring a minimum two-month residence.

Apply at http://clements.umich.edu/fellowship.php
Applications due January 15, 2020

For further information contact:
clements-fellowships@umich.edu or call 734-764-2347.
2020 DIGITAL FELLOWSHIPS

The William L. Clements Library at the University of Michigan holds a rich array of primary sources on early American history from 1492 into the 20th century including books, manuscripts, pamphlets, maps, prints, newspapers, photographs, and more.

Digital Fellowships offer a non-residential opportunity to support research by graduate students, faculty, or independent researchers working remotely on any topic that can be supported by digitized library materials. We can consider proposals for items that meet all of the following criteria:

- Stable enough for standard handling on one of our scanners
- Being digitized in full (no single pages from books or selected items from manuscript collections)
- Under 900 pages or 0.5 linear feet total
- Out of copyright
- Can be added to one of our digital collections and made freely available after digitization
- Cannot be added to another institution's holdings

Questions about eligible materials are encouraged prior to application submission. Grants provide digital files of the materials and $1,000 to support research using them.

Apply at http://clements.umich.edu/fellowship.php
Applications due January 15, 2020

For further information contact: clements-fellowships@umich.edu or call 734-764-2347.

Please Post