WHEREAS, beginning several months ago, the “Delta Variant” of COVID-19 began spreading quickly across the United States;

WHEREAS, as of this date, North Carolina's and Watauga County’s daily case counts and hospitalizations for COVID-19 are quickly increasing due to the Delta Variant, which spreads at least twice as easily as prior variants; and

WHEREAS, evidence cited by the federal Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) indicates that a significant portion of individuals with the coronavirus are asymptomatic, and that pre-symptomatic persons can transmit the virus to others before showing symptoms; and

WHEREAS, evidence indicates that masks and cloth face coverings are effective to reduce air-borne transmission of the coronavirus, and the CDC has issued guidance recommending the wearing of face coverings, including for vaccinated persons, in indoor settings in locales with “substantial” or “high” transmission; and

WHEREAS, the Town of Blowing Rock is a destination for travelers and visitors from all over North Carolina and the United States, including from states with much higher per capita rates of COVID-19 infection that the State of North Carolina or Watauga County; and
