COVID-19 underwriting guidance

The State Department has issued an unprecedented Level 3: Reconsider Travel advisory at a worldwide level. A "Reconsider travel abroad due to the global impact of COVID-19," statement has recently been added to the Department's website.

As COVID-19 cases increase within the U.S. and around the world, Legal & General America is issuing the following underwriting guidance on new and pending applications, effective immediately:

- A Good Health Statement will be required with all new or pending applications.
- At present, we will postpone consideration of all submissions on applicants who have planned future travel outside of the U.S.
- Applicants recently returning from international travel will have their application postponed until 30 days following their return.

For any underwriting questions regarding this announcement, please contact your underwriting manager.
