

New York State Women Inc. – Mohawk Valley Chapter
Pivoting During the Pandemic
For women who are entrepreneurs, in the workplace, or interviewing for a position
October 15, 2020
6:00 – 7:30 PM

Guest Panelists

Alcia Brockway, Vice President and Commercial Banking Team Leader of NBT Bank, has over 29 years of experience in the banking industry working with small businesses and women entrepreneurs. Leading, coaching and developing a team of Business Banking Relationship Managers in the Oneida, Herkimer and Madison Counties, her team works with small businesses to grow, develop and expand their current operations, understanding their needs and guiding them to achieve their goals.

Cathy Cucharale, President of Cucharale Consulting Group, LLC, is an accomplished compliance professional with more than 35 years of successful business leadership in regulatory, financial and corporation management. With her proven business leadership experience and expertise in regulatory, financial and corporation management, Cathy has been able to lead and manage high performing cross functional teams while providing financial oversight and ensuring compliance. She specializes in analyzing and implementing custom strategies based on organization and operational needs.

Judy Wolf, President of Core Integrity Coaching is a marketing, communications, and business development professional. She has served at the executive level in both the for-profit and non-profit arenas, and has successfully project managed countless innovative, high-intensity initiatives for small and large companies and organization.. As a Professional Certified Coach and Certified Business Advisor, she regularly coaches and consults with entrepreneurs, executives, and business owners on issues related to honing their leadership skills, growing their business, and developing and marketing their brand.