William James College | Center for Multicultural & Global Mental Health | Lucero Latino Mental Health Program

Hispanic Heritage Month

September 15th-October 15th

Resources and Professional Development for Supporting Latinx Clients

LMHP Conference: Cultural Competence/Humility and Treatment Techniques that Work in the Latino Community

September 17th 9am-4pm at WJC

The Lucero Center for Latino Mental Health invites you to this in-person Continuing Education training. Rapidly changing demographics behoove clinicians to expand their worldview and therapeutic repertoire to better serve Latino clients. Working with Latino families is not a one – size fits all approach. What is considered effective and respectful care might vary greatly from one community to another. This conference will teach participants to appreciate how socio-cultural background affects people's worldviews, behavior, and expectations for treatment.

Faculty may use the discount code: WJCFAC for 75% off registration, and students can select the student registration option and use code free2022.

Click Here to Register

Articles to Explore

- Rethinking Mental Health in the Latino Community
- Impacts of Climate Change on Latinx Populations
- Lessons From a First-Gen, Working-Class Latinx Student

Helpful Resources

- Spanish Feelings Chart
- Spanish Clinical Language
- IEP Forms: Spanish Translation
- Mental Status en Español
- LGBT Info en Español

Associations to Join

- National Hispanic and Latino MHTTC
- National Latinx Psychological Association
- National Latino Behavioral Health Association
- Amplify Latinx

Interested in applying to the Latino Mental Health Program and/or joining our Mentorship Program?
Email: LMHP@williamjames.edu