PRESS RELEASE

Architectural Design Contract Awarded for Eastern Greenwich Civic Center

The First Selectman's committee for the EGCC is pleased to announce that the architectural contract for the replacement of the Civic Center has been awarded to TSKP Studio of Hartford, CT.

TSKP was selected by the Committee from a group of 5 finalists. TSKP designed the now complete New Lebanon School.

The Eastern Greenwich Civic Center was built in 1950 as a recreation center for the Electrolux Corporation. The Town of Greenwich acquired the building and land in 1966 and been using it as a Civic Center for the last 53 yrs.

Newly elected First Selectman Fred Camillo remarks, "This is wonderful news for the Town of Greenwich. A new civic center will help meet the high demands for field usage and gym time and will be a chance for public-private partnerships to produce a facility that our residents can be proud of for generations to come."
