Get Insights from Industry Leaders

As home builders and multifamily developers consider what, and where, to build in a COVID and post-COVID world, questions abound regarding the demand for suburban versus urban housing, single-family versus multifamily and rental versus for-sale.

Join industry experts for NAHB's webinar The Future of Urban & Suburban Housing in the Wake of COVID-19 scheduled on Thursday, November 5, 2-3 pm ET to explore the critical elements driving suburban, urban, for-sale and rental demand across the U.S. in the wake of the pandemic.

This webinar will help you

- Gain an understanding of how the housing landscape is changing in the wake of the pandemic and how developers are addressing the new realities.
- Explore how developers are approaching the need for more affordable urban, suburban, rental and for-sale housing.
- Identify the prospects for development in urban, walkable suburban, low-density suburban, exurban and rural locations.
- Learn how the townhouse and single family built-for-rent sector will grow in the near future.

Be sure to reserve your spot today! If you are unable to attend, go ahead and register because you will get access to the webinar replay for 12 months.
