

Now Hiring: Arts Program Developer
Many Colors Arts Collective (Montgomery, AL)

We're seeking a creative, skilled artist or arts educator to design a studio-based arts program for adults who are neurodivergent and/or cognitively differently abled.

This role focuses on real artistic practice building a structured, supportive studio where participants grow in skill, expression, and community.

Details:

- Contract (with potential for permanent part-time and potential to grow)
- Mondays & Wednesdays, 8:30 AM–3:30 PM plus 4 flex hours per week
- $25–$35/hour (based on experience)

We're looking for someone who:

- Has experience teaching structured arts instruction
- Brings strong artistic skill in at least one medium
- Can design engaging, adaptive, high-quality arts programming
- Values creativity, dignity, and collaboration

Experience with neurodivergent adults is a plus (or willingness to learn).

To apply: Send resume, portfolio (if applicable), and a brief statement of interest to exdir@manycolorsarts.org.
