

Can we all agree that our country needs healing?

Never before have we been more divided. A spirit of disillusionment has descended like a weight. Is there a reason to hope? St. Paul answers with these words, “Jesus Christ, our hope.” (1 Timothy 1:1) Hope is a person. There is only One who can be counted on to fulfill all His promises—Jesus. So what are we to do? We are to pray. Every single time we read of the Holy Spirit moving in Scripture, it was preceded by God's people praying. Praying together. Praying passionately. Praying with desperation, knowing that their only hope was in Jesus, not themselves. Our collective prayers can act as a firehose that is directed toward the needs of our country. Let’s go to our knees, on behalf of our country. Please join Lisa Brenninkmeyer, founder and chief purpose officer of Walking with Purpose, along with Father John Riccardo, executive director of ACTS XXIX, and Michelle Benzinger, host of the Abiding Together podcast, as we collectively pray the rosary for our nation.
