

Check Out 4th of July Fireworks

Portsmouth

Celebrate Independence Day at New Hampshire's most historic seacoast location on July 3, 2024, starting at 9:15 p.m. at South Mill Pond across from Portsmouth City Hall. The event is free and open to the public. Learn more about the city's role in the fight for independence from England, topped off with a fireworks display that is sure to wow. For more information, visit Go Portsmouth.

<https://www.goportsmouthnh.com/what-to-do/holiday-happenings/celebrate-independence-day-portsmouth-seacoast/>

Hampton Beach

4th of July Special Fireworks Shoot, Hampton Beach

While fireworks are held every Wednesday evening at Hampton Beach, this annual Fourth of July event is the biggest display of the summer. The festivities happen on July 4, 2024, at 9:30 p.m. on the beach at the top of B and C Streets. For more information, visit the Hampton Beach Village District.

<https://hamptonbeach.org/events/fireworks/>

Nashua

The city of Nashua will be holding its annual fireworks display as part of the Nashua Silver Knights baseball game on July 4, 2024. The game kicks off at 11 a.m. and the first 500 adults get in free. After the game is a free concert, local entertainment, a drum & bugle corps performance, and then the fireworks at dusk. For more information, visit the City of Nashua website.

<https://www.nashuanh.gov/546/SummerFun>

Concord

New Hampshire's capital city celebrates Independence Day at Memorial Field on July 4, 2024, starting at 6 p.m., with the fireworks kicking off at 9:20 p.m. Also, enjoy live music and tastes from a variety of food vendors as part of the evening. For more information, visit the Concord Parks and Recreation Department.

<https://rec.concordnh.gov/recreation/flipbook/?page=6>

Manchester

The skies light up over New Hampshire's largest city on July 3, 2024, at Ames Park. Admission is free and there will be food vendors and live entertainment. The fireworks kick off at 9:30 p.m. but be sure to arrive early to stake out a great viewing spot. For more information, visit Manchester Ink Link.

<https://manchesterinklink.com/independence-day-celebration-set-for-july-3/>

York

First, fireworks will be set off July 4 from a barge off Short Sands Beach for the crowd at Ellis Park on Ocean Avenue.

Then, on July 6, fireworks will go off near the York Harbor Reading Room at 491 York Street.

York Parks and Recreation Special Events Coordinator Nick Darby said the July 4 show is scheduled for 9:30 p.m. and the Reading Room fireworks should go off around the same time, or after dark.

The week will also feature fun events and entertainment on Long Sands Beach.

A dance party will be held with music near the Long Sands bathhouse on July 4 led by one of the Parks and Recreation Department's dance instructors.

More Information Available at

<https://bit.ly/July4thFireworksInMaine>