From the Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Fountain in Atlanta, we read the words, “We will not be satisfied until justice rolls down like waters and righteousness like a mighty stream,” a quote from his I Have a Dream Speech. This quote alludes to the oracle of the eighth century B.C. prophet Amos (Amos 5:24) and illustrates how these words spoken so long ago continue to inspire believers today to work for social justice.

Join us as we study the message of the eighth century prophets Amos, Micah and Isaiah (chapters 1-11) to their contemporaries. We’ll consider their oracles in their ancient context and explore how we can live out these words in our contemporary context. We’ll devote one week to each prophet and a final week synthesizing their message with Jesus’ call to love God and our neighbor.

The Zoom link will be opened at 6:15 p.m. for anyone wishing share in dinner and conversation and the presentations and discussions will begin at 7:00 p.m. and conclude with Compline no later than 8:30 p.m. Please, join us if you are able! ~ The Adult Formation Ministry Team
