

HUMBOLDT COUNTY WORKFORCE DEVELOPMENT BOARD PRESENTS:

THE PRACTICE OF HONORING DIVERSITY with Lee Mun Wah

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 3, 2018

9:00 am - Noon

Sequoia Conference Center, Room A · 901 Myrtle Avenue, Eureka

The Workforce Development Board is pleased to extend this invitation to the community of Humboldt County. Lee Mun Wah is an internationally renowned Chinese American documentary filmmaker, author, poet, Asian folkteller, educator, community therapist and master diversity trainer.

Thousands of people from government and social service agencies, corporations and educational institutions have taken Lee Mun Wah's workshops and partnered with Stirfry Seminars & Consulting on their diversity initiatives. Lee has been featured on Oprah, TED Talks and the movie the Color of Fear.

RSVP to Allison Tans at altans@co.humboldt.ca.us.

This workshop is targeted toward Humboldt County community members interested in honoring diversity in the workplace and throughout the County. The training is free, but reservations are required.
