The Jacobs & Cushman San Diego Food Bank and North County Food Bank chapter comprise the largest hunger-relief organization in San Diego County. Last year, the Food Bank distributed 63 million pounds of food, and the Food Bank serves, on average, 500,000 people per month in San Diego County.

The Food Bank provides food to more than 500 nonprofit organizations that operate feeding programs. Nonprofits pick up food from the Food Bank's warehouse and distribute the food to people in need in their areas. These nonprofits include soup kitchens, shelters, churches with feeding programs, schools, senior and disabled living facilities, and food pantries. They also provide nutritious food to individuals and families in need in communities throughout San Diego County.
