

Census Workers in the Field

Preparations for the 2020 Census have recently begun in San Juan County. Census employees are out in different areas around the county confirming physical and mailing address information.

This work requires that Census workers canvass residential properties throughout the islands. Census workers assigned canvassing work have the legal responsibility to visit all properties they are assigned and to confidentially protect all information that is gathered.

Every Census canvasser is issued a US Department of Commerce identification badge and their vehicles should have US Census Bureau placards on display. Canvassing work in San Juan County will continue for the next several weeks. The actual count of people living in the County and across the USA will begin in 2020.
