

GOVERNOR LOSENS LIMITS ON INDOOR DINING

As many local restaurants are losing their outside seating options due to inclement weather, they received good news from Governor Jay Inslee's office last week; table occupancy has been expanded from allowing 5 individuals from the same household per table, to 6 individuals per table who may be from different households.

Tables still must be spaced 6-feet apart and restaurant capacity remains at 50%. Many islands restaurants are struggling to keep their doors open, or are continuing to do take-out only. Please support them with your patronage or consider buying gift cards for future use.
