

EDC presents 10th Annual Economic Forecast Luncheon: San Juan County – Cross-Borders, Cross-Industries

Join the conversation on San Juan County – Cross-Borders, Cross-Industries at the 10th Annual EDC Economic Forecast Luncheon, held at Brickworks in Friday Harbor on Wednesday, May 8th from 11:30 a.m. until 1:30 p.m. Catered lunch by San Juan Bistro will be served.

This year's topic is San Juan County – Cross-Borders, Cross-Industries, which will examine international trade, innovation, and security as they relate to the San Juan County economy.

Laurie expert and Research
Young,
Development Sector at the Commerce; and Julia Terlinchamp, Director of Economic Development for the Life Science/Global Health Sector at Commerce.

The speakers will include Dr. Trautman, noted border policy Director of the Border Institute at WWU; Brian Director of Economic for the Clean Technology Washington State Dept of

Dr. Laurie Trautman

Dr. Laurie Trautman engages in a range of research activities at Western Washington University, focused on the U.S.-Canada border, particularly in the Washington/British Columbia region, including topics such as trade, transportation, security, and human mobility. In addition to working with faculty and students, she collaborates with the private sector and government agencies to advance policy solutions that balance cross-border flows with the need for efficiency and security.

Brian Young

Brian Young is the Director of Economic Development for the Clean Technology Sector at Commerce; he coordinates statewide economic development efforts for the clean technology sector including commercializing biofuels, consulting on renewable energy projects, and managing cleanup of nuclear waste at Hanford.

Julia Terlinchamp is the Director of Economic Development for the Life Science/Global Health Sector at Commerce; she leads statewide economic development efforts for life science and global health, including biopharmaceutical and medical device companies and non-profit research institutions.

The 10th Annual EDC Economics Luncheon will be held from 11:30 a.m. until 1:30 p.m. on Wednesday, May 8th, at Brickworks, 150 Nichols Street in Friday Harbor. Tickets are $35 and space is limited. For more information and to order tickets please visit www.sanjuansedc.org/luncheon. This event is sponsored by Islanders Bank, Heritage Bank, and San Juan Propane.

###