

Re-Entry Update

The Re-Entry team continues to meet and consider all requests and concerns regarding our safety and cleaning procedures during this time of world health issues. It appears that this pandemic is unending. People want to move forward and learn how to function in this environment.

CTK has established a cleaning routine and provided supplies to spot clean frequently. We have found ways to limit personal contact and encourage safety measures like distancing and providing face coverings. We are happy to say that we have been meeting for almost 5 months for worship and have gradually re-introduced more worship components with lay volunteers. To date, we have no reported medical issues.

Our internal teams are meeting in ways they feel comfortable (in-person and zoom). CTK is an important part of our community, many groups have been requesting to use our spaces. Gradually, many of the groups are returning. The smaller groups are comfortable at CTK. Our larger groups are also returning starting this month and into November. We are glad to welcome them back knowing that they have all agreed to wipe down surfaces and generally clean the space they have used. All are very grateful for the ability to meet at CTK because we have a fabulous facility.

Please be assured that we are monitoring the number of people who wish to sit in the socially distanced set of pews so that we can increase or decrease that space as needed. Please know that if you have any questions regarding the safety of our space you are encouraged to reach out to the members of the Re-Entry Team.

Thank you very much for all of your patience as we have moved slowly to respect those members who cannot be vaccinated.

Blessings from your Re-Entry team: Andy J., Vicky J., Pastor Jackie, Summer M., Mark S., Paul N., Bob R. and Paul S.
