

What is the ADULT FORUM all about?

It's all about people who want to engage in thinking about their beliefs. That is the purpose of the Adult Forum.

It's not to challenge or correct or change what anyone believes.

Our purpose is to engage in thinking theologically about what we believe.

Theologically simply means 'thinking about God.'

How does the Forum do that?

Forum participants choose a topic to study.

Typically, it is a book on some theological topic.

Look at the titles on this page we have explored.

You will notice it is not a Bible study, though a book may draw upon biblical resources.

Having read something about the chosen topic, members share their insights and comments.

Why is it important to share ideas?

Because we have learned that each of us does theology at different levels and in different ways.

We do not always agree on our positions, but we respect each other's beliefs. And because these are personal disclosures, they are only shared with other Adult Forum members.

Anyone can join this group...

parishioners and non-parishioners.

The Adult Forum* meets every week, through every season.
