Channel Islands
CALIFORNIA STATE UNIVERSITY

2023 Annual Conference for Social Justice in Education: Call for Presenters
Saturday, March 4, 2023

"Sí Se Puede: Advocating for Justice Through Education"

The goal of the 2023 Annual Conference for Social Justice in Education is to engage a community of caregivers, counselors, educators, students, and other stakeholders in critical discussion and reflection to promote educational efforts towards this year's conference theme: "Sí Se Puede: Advocating for Justice Through Education."

The 2023 Annual Conference for Social Justice in Education welcomes scholar-practitioners at all career stages seeking a supportive venue to share their work. One of our goals is to provide space for researchers and practitioners to come together across generations to share and learn from one another and, in so doing, to become part of a broader community interested in education, equity, gender rights, and social justice.

We invite you to submit a proposal related to our theme: "Sí Se Puede: Advocating for Justice Through Education." Multiple presentation formats are eligible for submission for a 45-minute session (e.g., workshop, simulation/role play, group discussion, lecture, artistic performance, etc.). The following topics are encouraged; however, proposals are NOT limited to these topics:

- Culturally Sustaining Practices: Culturally inclusive schools and practices, ensuring students see themselves represented in the curriculum, leveraging funds of knowledge
- Amplifying Student Voice: Practices for centering and amplifying student voice
- Advocacy: Practices for centering community and student advocacy
- Inquiry: Action Research, Practitioner Research, Participatory Action Research, Youth Participatory Action Research, etc.
- Innovation: Creative strategies to approach new challenges
- Gender and Sexuality Justice: Advocacy for transgender and gender nonconforming students
- Social Justice in Education: Equitable opportunities and quality education for all students
- Critical Practices: Resisting accountability-based instructional policies and scripted curricula
- Empowerment: Educational partners acting against the 'culture of fear' to promote social justice
- Community: Partnerships that address educational equity

All proposals must be submitted by Tuesday, January 17, 2023 using the following Google Forms link:

https://forms.gle/P66rnoVuMByQ17119

Proposal Elements (Submit via Google Forms):

I. Title Presentation (12 words or fewer)
II. Session Format
III. Abstract (50 words or fewer)
IV. Presentation Description (500 words or fewer): Describe the session in terms of its: (a) Significance of content, (b) Objectives and/or purposes, (c) Intended audience, and (d) Participant outcomes.
V. How does your presentation align and contribute to the conference theme? "Sí se puede: Advocating for Justice Through Education" (50 words or less)
VI. Grade level(s) addressed

Channel Islands
CALIFORNIA STATE UNIVERSITY

2023 Annual Conference for Social Justice in Education: Call for Presenters
Saturday, March 4, 2023

Selection of Proposals:

- Notification of action will be emailed only to the lead presenter by February 6, 2023. Proposals will be reviewed using the following criteria:
    - Contribution to the conference theme
    - Significance of content
    - Objectives and/or purposes
    - Audience
    - Format
    - Participant outcomes

Equipment: Every classroom is equipped with audio connection, projector, and VGA cable. Bring your own Apple adapters.