

Abandoned Vehicles at the Joint Base-

The 87th Security Forces Squadron began a program in 2019 to clear illegally parked vehicles from base. The Abandoned Vehicle Program was created in response to an increasing number of deserted vehicles on Joint Base McGuire-Dix-Lakehurst, New Jersey.

The program aims to solve this problem by identifying abandoned vehicles and towing them to an impound parking lot where they are stored. The registered owner will then be notified and given two options: come and get it or sign the title over to security forces.

Any vehicle that looks abandoned: flat tires, debris around the tires, no tags/expired tags or any kind of suspicion that the vehicle is abandoned Security Forces will tag them. Once they tag them, they will give three days to either move their vehicle or respond to us. If any vehicle is considered inoperable, then we will tow that vehicle immediately.

Are you PCSing? Deploying? Don't abandon your vehicle. Take care of the things you own.

If you are PCSing, deploying or see an abandoned vehicle, call the Abandoned Vehicle Program at 609-562-4111.
