Jacquelyne A. Lotz - Bio

Jacquie has been drawing and painting since childhood. Landscapes, seascapes, still life and view's through windows.

Oils were her medium, then colored pencil and watercolors. Basically self-taught, with a couple of classes learning how to "see."

From 1988 to 2000 metaphysical artwork, completing an inward spiritual journey. The year 2001, going back to "Star Island," (one of nine islands that make up the "Isle of Shoal's," eleven miles out to sea from Portsmouth, New Hampshire) and painting through a new vision of New England Coast. Jacquie taught watercolor on "Star" for one week – June 2002, at the "Conference on the Arts" program and Jacquie is scheduled to teach "Fabric Appliqué" at River Tree Arts in Kennebunk, starting October 1, 2002.

Also, in year 2000, Jacquie combined her two loves – painting and quilting. Completing a watercolor of "Star Island" then tracing the watercolor, which then becomes the template for the fabric piece. The "Fabric Appliqué" is all done by hand, with added embroidery embellishments, the process takes one month for each piece. Which explains the "Watercolor/Fabric Appliqué" theme.
