

LOGISTICS MANAGEMENT

LONE STAR COLLEGE-HOUSTON NORTH

OVERVIEW

Logistics Management is a business management program that prepares graduates for employment in the areas of total supply chain management, including inventory control, materials management, and transportation. Students can expect to gain experience in the three main functional areas of logistics management: warehousing, transportation, and materials management. Logistics is widely recognized as a critical driver for a business's success, and the demand for trained logistics professionals is growing nationwide.
