J.S. Bach: Magnificat First heard in Leipzig in 1723, Bach captures Mary's radical, rhapsodic song of praise. From the ecstatic joy of an over-flowing first movement, to tender devotion in remembering God's promises, the Magnificat is Bach at his most theatrical...an excellent partner to Handel's masterpiece.

George Frideric Handel: Messiah, Part One For the first time in our history, The Choir will perform Messiah, Part One, with its familiar and much-loved movements including "Comfort Ye, My People" and "For Unto Us a Child Is Born". Handel's years of experience writing for the theatre are evident in his most famous work. Part One includes texts from Isaiah that mirror the rhapsody of Mary's Magnificat.
