Building Youth Pathways Through Partnership

This year, Horizons proudly launched a new partnership with Enterprise for Youth and NewDoor Ventures to expand opportunities for Transitional Aged Youth (TAY) ages 18-24. Even in the face of funding cuts, this collaboration ensured that young people stayed connected to supportive services and leadership pathways through hands-on roles in The DJ Project and LifeWorks programs.

Through this collaboration, we were able to host three of our homegrown youth as Coordinators-in-Training (CITs) within The DJ Project and LifeWorks programs, as well as three additional interns within The DJ Project youth cohorts. These roles gave participants hands-on leadership experience while strengthening their ties to community and creative work.

Looking ahead, we are excited to continue growing this partnership and plan to host 3–6 new interns in the upcoming year!
