

Panel: Socially Engaged Buddhism In These Current Times

Moderated by Jean Esther, with Panel Members
Adi Bemak, Manny Mansbach, and Bernadine Mellis

Monday May 5, 6:30pm - 8:30 pm ET
In person/hybrid at IWM

So many practitioners are investigating Wise Speech and Wise Action in response to current political leaders who are making decisions steeped in the 3 poisons of Greed, Hatred and Delusion. Please join this gathering led by a panel of local Buddhist teachers who are committed to integrating dharma practice with the practice of social justice.

We will begin with a short meditation followed by brief presentations from each panel member. This will be followed by ample time for discussion, and the opportunity to form socially engaged affinity groups for those who desire. If you wish to continue beyond this event, there will be a chance to exchange emails. Please know it is fine to come and participate in this evening as a one time event.
