

Wanted: Science Fair Judges

- ✓ Are you interested in encouraging young students' appreciation for science?
- ✓ Do you work as a scientist or engineer, or do you have a science, engineering, or other related degree?
- ✓ Are you looking for a one-time, fun and rewarding volunteer opportunity?

If you answered yes to these questions, please consider serving as a judge at the 2019 St. Isidore School Science Fair!

Date:

Wednesday, January 30, 2019

Time:

8am – 2:30pm

Where:

St. Isidore School, Msgr. Benson Gym

How it works:

We'll provide guidelines and a form for judging the projects. You'll work with a partner to review 5-7 projects and meet with the students.

How you benefit:

Science projects are often the first experiences that inspire students to explore and love science. Come see what interests the scientists of tomorrow! You'll raise awareness of the broad and varied careers in science that kids can pursue one day. Continental breakfast and lunch are provided.

Judge

Qualifications:

Science or engineering professionals with degrees in science, engineering, or other related fields; understands and can apply the Scientific Method; enjoys working with young students
