Cape Cod Healthcare Announces Expanded Medical Supply Donation Program

Donations to be accepted at five locations across Cape Cod

Beginning noon on Tuesday, March 24, Cape Cod Healthcare (CCHC) will expand the number of locations where residents can donate essential medical supplies to be used by healthcare providers to protect themselves as they care for patients in the fight against the coronavirus (COVID-19).

Items needed are listed by priority:

- Isolation Gowns
- Face Shields
- Surgical Masks
- Nitrile Gloves
- 3M N95 Masks # 1860, 1860S & 1870
- Disinfectant Wipes
- No Touch or Forehead Thermometers

“We have been overwhelmed by the generosity of our local community and friends,” said Michael Lauf, president and CEO of Cape Cod Healthcare. “It is a true indication of how Cape Cod has banded together during this COVID-19 crisis.”

Due to the outpouring of generosity from local residents, Cape Cod Healthcare will be working with the Cape Cod Medical Reserve Corps to expand the medical supply donation program to include additional sites across Cape Cod.

Many generous Cape Cod residents and others have offered to donate hand-sewn masks. To help ensure the safety of physicians, nurses and staff, unopened or sealed packages of medical grade masks in all sizes are preferred. Hand-sewn masks will be accepted at donation locations. Masks should be boxed or sealed in plastic.

Donations can be made at the following locations: (Please see maps below.)

- Falmouth Hospital - 100 Ter Heun Drive, Falmouth (Employee Parking lot)
- Fontaine Outpatient Medical Center – 525 Long Pond Road, Harwich
- Hyannis Urgent Care - 1220 Iyannough Road, Hyannis
- Parking Lot - 9 East Main Street, Hyannis (intersection of Rt. 28)

A REMINDER TO OUR COMMUNITY

To help preserve these valuable medical resources, patients are encouraged to only visit Cape Cod Healthcare Emergency Care and Urgent Care centers if medically necessary.

To receive COVID-19 testing, patients must be screened for COVID-19 by a clinical care provider, receive a doctor's order and an appointment for COVID-19 testing. Patients displaying symptoms of COVID-19 should contact their primary care provider to be screened for COVID-19. Effective March 20, 2020, those individuals without a primary care physician who are experiencing symptoms, including fever, coughing or shortness of breath, should call 508-862-5595 and they will be screened for COVID-19 by a Cape Cod Healthcare clinical provider via phone.
