When I lived in my country I had a political problem. My country does not allow freedom of speech. I am also a Bible teacher so I will say what is not right. Because of this I know I am bound by my understanding of Christian beliefs. I know that I have thought of taking many options to solve the problem. I should not have been arrested for speaking about Christians and human freedom. The way I solved the main problem is with a new idea that I have to leave my country.

Majed Aldghli

My problems haven't been solved yet, but I'm trying to solve this one because it's the biggest problem for me. I dream of opening a sweets shop.

A PHONE PROBLEM

Last week, I had a difficult problem. The problem was my phone died and I was lost. First, I felt nervous because I could not use the map. Then, to solve the problem, I charged my phone with a power bank. My phone turned on, and I checked the map. Finally, I found the way to my house and went home safely. From this experience, I learned that phones are important for everything.

MY PHONE WAS RUNNING OUT OF BATTERY

One time, my phone was running out of battery when I was going to a new place. I needed it for navigation, so I was worried it would shut down. First, I turned down the screen brightness and closed some apps to save battery. Then I found nearby shared power bank. I scanned a QR code, rented a power bank and charged my phone. Finally, I solved the problem when I arrived at the new place and returned the power bank nearby. After that, I learned to check my phone's battery before leaving home and carried a power bank with me.

BURNING A TRASH AT HOME

To begin with, I had a problem with one of my neighbors who reported me to the police without letting me know. That I set fire in my trash to burn it and the smoke was disturbing her in her compound. So then, when I was sitting I saw a vehicle at my gate with two police women and one lady. They said I should answer at the police station. For this reason, when we arrived at the station, the police explained the matter to me the reason I was invited to the station. Later, I also gave them my statement telling them that we both burn our trash at the same time because she once came to me and we talk about how the smoke disturb us and how bad it is to our health and our families. We agree with the time and the day we are both going to burn the trash which is every Thursday by 4:00. Finally, the police gave us advice that we should both not do it again and let us stay as good neighbors not enemies.

One day at noon, I faced a problem when I went to using microwave oven to heat meal for lunch at kitchen it was stops working. I tried to find the problem and solved.

First, I opened and closed the door several times to checked, it not worked. second, I tired to check the power supply. it was hard to find the cables and outlet sockets cause the microwave oven was hidden fixed in the cabinet many parts need to be remove and hard to recover.

Then, I thought about how to found a easy way to make sure it had power. I decide first went to check the circuit breaker. I went to garage and find the general electric control box. At last I find the tipped circuit breaker and reseted it. the microwave oven was working. I heated meal for my lunch. I learned smart way that was how to step by step to solve the problem you faced.

Kids Behavior

When I was in back home my neighborhood kid was impolite boy. He did not hear his parent and anyone In back home, We were flogging kids when we gave punishment for them. His mom and his dad gave punishment for him every day because he did not dose them order. One day I called him in my home and I said can you do this I will bay candy for you then he said ok and he did mine order. I continued this situation every day for different prices. After some times he became a nice and polite kid. Finally he heard his mom and anyone then he went to School and he successfully completed a course of study and received an academic qualification from a university.

My problem is that my daughter is always late for school, every morning. I don't understand why if we get up early.

I think the solution is to get her up earlier so that she can do her things calmly, with time and thus be able to get to school early.

What we can learn from this is that organizing time is very important to be able to do our things well and always arrive at the established time anywhere.
