

SENSORY FRIENDLY SUNDAY

Cleveland Museum of NATURAL HISTORY

Sunday, February 24
9:30 am to noon

People on the Autism Spectrum
and their families, can now enjoy a gentler way to experience the Museum.

Arrive before open hours and avoid crowds,
noise and distractions.

Stroll though the galleries at your own pace.
Relax in designated "quiet areas."

Enjoy modified experiences of the Biomechanics exhibit and planetarium shows.

View live animals outside, weather permitting.

Museum Store will open early at 11:30am.

Those with ASD: Free
Museum Members: Free
Nonmembers: $10 per person
Parking: $6

*A limited number of scholarships are available
for those who need financial assistance.
Call (216) 231-4600 for more information.*

Sensory Friendly Day is supported by the William J. & Dorothy K. O'Neill Foundation.

Registration is not required,
but welcome
Visit CMNH.org for details.