Two DD agencies selected for the Adult Activities Centers

After an extensive and competitive process, CCBDD's Board approved at its July 25, 2019 meeting to enter into an arrangement with two DD provider agencies to assume operations of the Adult Activities Centers (AACs), effective January 6, 2020. The two agencies are Solutions at Work, Inc. (SAW) and Vocational Guidance Services.

AACs to be operated by SAW- Beachwood, East Cleveland, Euclid, Maple Heights, Parma and Rocky River

AACs to be operated by Vocational Guidance Services- Brooklyn and Southwest

Using technology to increase opportunities and independence

CCBDD has created a demonstration smart apartment, the CLE (Custom Living Environment), to showcase a variety of equipment, technology and smart devices that can be used in a person's home to increase independence.

CCBDD also customized a van to create the ATV (Assistive Technology Vehicle). This custom van showcases various assistive technology items and is available to travel to public events, conferences and throughout the community. The ATV has limited capacity to provide onsite demonstrations to individuals.

Examples of devices, tools and technology available in the CLE and/or the ATV:

- Ceiling mounted lift system
- Standing wheelchair
- Smart devices throughout
- Live remote support demonstration
- Robotic feeding device and adapted cookware
- Sensory area
