

Adrienne King, MA

Adrienne King is a Dance and Arts Integration Specialist who enjoys working with all levels and abilities. She holds a Masters degree in Deaf Education, a BA in Visual and Performing Arts with an emphasis in Dance, and a MD State Teacher Certification in Special Education, Deaf Education, and Dance. Adrienne develops her own arts integrated curriculum and teaches throughout Maryland for both hearing and Deaf populations. She can often be found supporting community outreach as well as in public schools through grants, as an artist-in-residence, or grant provider. She enjoys finding unique ways to integrate movement and the arts with the regular school curriculum and strives to find ways to engage all learners.
