Chris Boccinfuso Bio

Chris Boccinfuso joined the ministry in December 2004. He worked in the industrial and healthcare programs of the ministry in progressive roles as an inspector, regional program coordinator, and program manager. In 2017, he left the field and worked as a provincial specialist in the Occupational Health and Safety Branch. He is currently the acting Senior Manager for the Construction Health and Safety Program. Between 2022 and 2025, Chris was seconded to the Ministry of Long-Term Care. As the Senior Manger, Compliance and Enforcement, he built up that ministry's capacity for investigating offences in long-term care.

Chris lives in the Niagara Region with his wife and two grown children. He also shares his space with 6 demanding cats and spends a small fortune on kitty litter.
