Ethical behaviour is paramount in the construction industry. Click here to see video!

By maintaining high ethical standards, and being consistent in our practices, we thrive both personally and professionally. The Construction Industry Ethics course can help your employees navigate the ethical grey areas they face every day.

This course has been designed to help you understand ethics as it relates to the construction industry. The course contains interactive elements, case studies, practical examples, videos, and a course glossary.

Objectives:

Upon completing this course, you will:

- Understand what is included in "ethical behaviour"
- Be aware of the importance of ethics in business
- Know how to make ethical decisions

- Recognize ethics in the context of the law
- Understand the direct link between ethics and a company's success

Who Should Attend: senior management, clients, contractors, supervisors, project managers, estimators, and employers

Instructor: Ellaline Davies, President of Safety Works Consulting Inc.

Where: NCA Boardroom - 34 Scott Street West, St. Catharines, ON

It is recommended that learners complete the online course as a prerequisite for the classroom training.

The online course ($200 +HST) duration is approximately 4 hours and available in English and French.

"The seminar on 'Injured Worker - WSIB in the Construction Workplace' was very informative. The participation scenarios were very helpful as it gave us the opportunity to work through various situations that occur in the construction workplace. Well taught and very thorough. I will definitely enroll in other seminars provided by the Niagara Construction Association."
