

Building Greater Understanding About Native American History in NJ: Decolonizing Classrooms and Curriculum

May 10, 2019; 9:30 am - 12:30 pm
at Foundation for Educational Administration Conference Center
12 Centre Drive, Monroe, NJ 08831

Sponsored by the Kidsbridge Tolerance Center and NJPSA/FEA with support from the New Jersey Council for the Humanities

Presenter: Arla Patch

This session is intended to provide administrators and educators the facts and the tools to teach the true history of the First Peoples, Columbus and the first Thanksgiving. Participants will learn the historical context and impact of the shared history that non-Native communities have with Indigenous peoples in New Jersey, both past and present. A wide variety of teaching tools will be provided including informational websites and classroom activities.

Arla Patch is a teaching artist, author, and social justice activist. Living in Maine, she became involved in the Maine Wabanaki-State Child Welfare Truth and Reconciliation Commission, the first effort in the country to address what happened to Native children in the child welfare system. Her role as Community Engagement Coordinator for Maine Wabanaki REACH (reconciliation, engagement, advocacy, change and healing) created opportunities for educating the non-Native Maine population about the need for the Truth Commission. She has partnered with NJ Native American chiefs and Kidsbridge to create this new program.

This session would be an ideal in-district program to bring to your district.

Please Bring Your Charged Device to This Workshop!
