

KMV PRESENTS A VIRTUAL EVENT...

BE WEB SAFE & SAVVY (and Avoid Fraud and Scams)

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 2020

3:30-5:00 PM

Please join us for a Kemp Mill Village (KMV)-sponsored virtual presentation about staying safe online while avoiding scams and fraud schemes targeting the unwary.

Our event presenter is Tracy Rezvani, administrator of Montgomery County's Office of Consumer Protection. Tracy's presentation will include:

- Tips for staying safe and secure while online
- An update on scams associated with the pandemic
- Ways to shop safely during the holiday season and beyond
- How to identify and prevent identity theft and fraudulent activities that target seniors
- Actions you can take if you suspect you've been a victim of fraud

Especially at this time of year, thieves may target you as you shop for holiday gifts, click on "Black Friday" deals, and seek out end-of-season bargains. It is easy to fall prey to scammers looking to grab your cash or worse...your identity. This KMV virtual event will heighten your awareness, increase your knowledge and help you side-step potential traps. Whether you are an experienced web surfer or a relative novice to the Net, Tracy will provide information, describe action steps and offer options to help you make informed choices and better understand ways to navigate and stay safe in cyberspace. This information will enhance the control that we as consumers and as a community, can exercise regarding online experiences that promote lifelong independent living. In addition, she will provide additional resource information and facilitate a group discussion to answer questions.
