

Maisie Dobbs Book Club

February marks the beginning of the Maisie Dobbs Book Club at McLean!

Maisie Dobbs is a fictional heroine, psychologist and private investigator who overcomes her lowly beginnings and evolves into an exciting life with a mix of mystery, war story and romance set in WWI-era England. As she moves through the sixteen books written by Jacqueline Winspear, there are many interesting people who contribute to her character development.

We are starting this series with the first book, MAISIE DOBBS, and have a few copies to circulate. We will have it available in paperback, large print and CD for an audio version. It's also available on Audible or Kindle if you have those devices.

We will be continuing in this order:

Birds of a Feather

Pardonable Lies

Messenger of Truth

An Incomplete Revenge

Among the Mad

The Mapping of Love and Death

A Lesson in Secrets

Elegy for Eddie

Leaving Everything Most Loved

A Dangerous Place

Journey to Munich

In This Grave Hour

To Die but Once

The American Agent
The Consequences of Fear

We are planning to read one book each month, with a Zoom call discussion on the third THURSDAY of the month, beginning February 18th, at 10:30 a.m. Life Enrichment team members will be available to help facilitate the calls and discussions.

Please let your Life Enrichment Team member (Melissa, Pam, Kathy W. or Kathy C.) know if your loved one would like to read the book and join the discussion! All are invited.
