Life Care Center of Rochester, located at 827 W. 13th St., is more than just a nursing home. It offers traditional 24/7 skilled nursing services, but it also offers inpatient and outpatient rehabilitation – including physical, occupational and speech therapies. Many patients are able to do their therapy at the center and regain their independence after surgery or illness. The Ready… Set… Go! program helps patients prepare to safely make the transition home.

On the other end of the spectrum, Life Care Center of Rochester also features a memory care unit for residents with Alzheimer's and other dementias, where trained associates care for patient's unique needs.

The building is led by Rhonda (Howard) Schifferl, executive director.

"As a homegrown resident of the Rochester area, I started as a certified nursing assistant here at Life Care Center of Rochester, when the building was known as Canterbury Manor," said Schifferl. "I also worked with Life Care as the front desk/accounting position in the late '90s. Life has a way of coming full circle. With more than 40 years in the health care environment, I work hard to bring the ethics, determination and dynamics to make Life Care Center of Rochester the best caring facility around, where our family and your family get the best care from the entire hometown team."
